

Allen T. Stehle

Allen is owner and CEO of Beal College. He holds the international certification of Certified Fraud Examiner (CFE) and is a Forensic Accountant

Allen is a teacher, author, mentor and consultant. He has developed a unique training program called Problem Solving and Critical Thinking for Police Officers and criminal justice students and is currently working to self-publish a textbook on conservation law enforcement. Allen volunteers as a member of TRIAD, a group of law enforcement agencies and social service agencies that helps promote elderly safety programs, elderly fraud investigation services, and education and outreach to our elderly populations.

Allen graduated from SUNY with a BS in environmental Science and Forestry, has a BS from Syracuse University, and holds a Master's of Science from Utica College of Syracuse University. Allen brings a unique mixture of law enforcement, entrepreneurial, managerial, financial and executive leadership skills, and he brings unquestioned integrity and ethics to all he does. He has dedicated thirty years to the greater Bangor community trying to improve individual lives through career training and personal mentoring.

Allen lives in Corinth with his wife and three children. He is a woodworker and boat builder and makes wooden and canvas canoes. To enjoy the "sweet things" in life, Allen make about 30 gallons of syrup a year and becomes very popular with his friends as he give most away as gifts. Allen enjoy canoeing, hiking, wildlife photography and fly fishing. Allen has paddled rivers in the arctic region of Alaska and enjoys the solitude and spirituality of nature.
